Fall in to the Museum

Programming Fun at the Museum

This summer it was so nice to see everyone out again at the museum for all of our activities. We were open for the full summer for the first time since 2019 and welcomed so many visitors from across North America. Canada Day returned to a resounding success along with a great line-up of summer programming. We welcomed a new temporary exhibit about the Drummond Island and saw the return of our volunteers and full access to our Genealogy & History Research Room.

With all of the new activities and programs at the museum, we have to thank the Friends of the Museum and their fundraising partners Delta Bingo for sponsoring so many programs. The Friends of the Museum are always looking for more volunteers to assist with our Bingo shifts that take place twice a month. If you are interested in helping us out, please do not hesitate in contacting us.

The Approach of Fall

As usual the summer season has passed far too quickly. Autumn is coming whether we like it or not. But take heart, there are still many pleasant weather days ahead. And fall is when we often start thinking about comfort foods and warm sweaters.

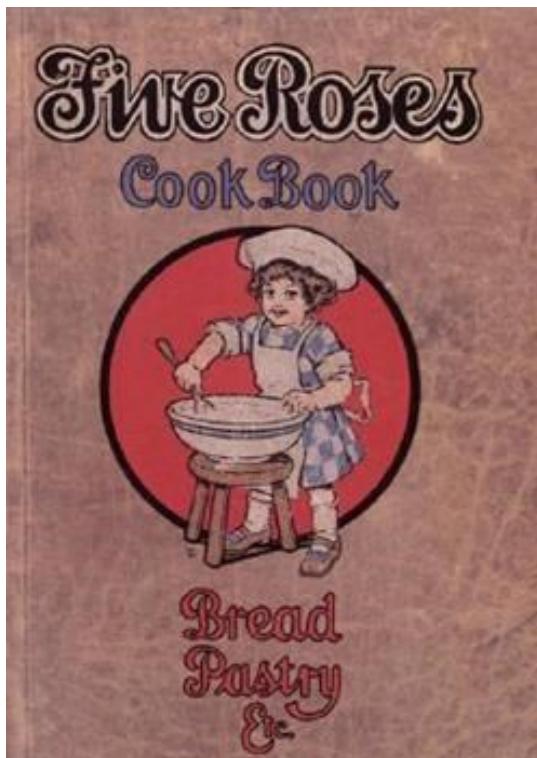

Whether you choose to bake your pies or buy them, pumpkin seems to be a staple. In fact, pumpkin seems to be in everything, including your coffee!

The following is not a recipe for pumpkin pie, but something a bit different that you may find interesting. It seems to be quite versatile. The recipe itself is from the 1910 version of the Five Roses Cookbook.

Pumpkin Syrup

Take one good-sized pumpkin (ripe), wash well, and remove most of the seeds and soft center. Cut the flesh with skin on into small cubes, and nearly cover with water. Boil until soft, then put into jelly bag. When all the juice is drained out, put on stove and boil $\frac{1}{2}$ hour, then measure and put cup for cup of juice and sugar and boil until thick. Nice with pancakes or toast.

(Just my thought, but would it maybe make a tasty coffee syrup, or maybe on ice cream?)

End of Summer Concert Featuring Passport Sunday, September 11 6:30PM to 8:30PM

Although we are sad to see summer go by, we always look forward to hosting the annual End of Summer Concert with the band Passport. Concert begins at 6:30PM and a BBQ is available (limited quantities, so show up early). This is a nice time to enjoy some music and meet your neighbours in the Penetanguishene area. Event runs on Sunday, September 11th and is FREE (BBQ is by donation).
